PERSONAL SUMMARY

I am a father of 2 girls, I am divorced but in a great relationship of over a year now. At the age of 43, I live my life to the fullest. Enjoying time with my family and friends every chance I get. I have continued my education ranging from Business Communication to Information Technology to Web Development and Design. I have a passion for the knowledge of new technologies as well as working with people. I will bring a great personality, excellent customer service as well as being a team player. I am seeking a position with a progressive organization that will benefit from a diverse educational and professional background as I can provide. When you allow me the opportunity to help the continuing growth and development of your company I will also enjoy continuing my knowledge as well. Which is a win – win for both of use. Below you will find a list of more information about me any more detail information needed please call or email me for that information. My Digital Portfolio is available at WWW.STEEVOATMAN.ME . Thank You!
